

THE FINANCIAL SERVICES ROUNDTABLE

Financing America's Economy

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Ann Patterson, (202) 589-2448

Greg Rattray to Lead BITS Security Program

Washington, D.C.— September 7, 2010— BITS, the technology policy division of The Financial Services Roundtable, announced today that Dr. Greg Rattray has joined the organization as Senior Vice President for Security.

Rattray starts as the Security Program lead as of September 7.

“Greg has been at the helm of cybersecurity policy and initiatives for both the public and private sectors for more than two decades,” said Leigh Williams, BITS President. “Greg’s wide-ranging cyber-security experience, combined with our members’ deep financial services expertise, will strengthen both our key partnerships and our industry practices.”

Rattray joins BITS having most recently served as the Chief Internet Security Advisor for ICANN, the Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers, and as a founding partner at Delta Risk LLC, a cyber defense, resiliency and risk management consulting firm. Prior to ICANN, Greg spent 23 years in the Air Force, serving on the National Security Council and the President’s Critical Infrastructure Protection Board (where he contributed to the National Strategy to Secure Cyberspace). He retired as a Colonel in command of the operations group of the Air Force Information Operations Center.

Greg is an acknowledged leader in national and global cybersecurity efforts. He is a full member of the Council on Foreign Relations; a member of the Cyber Conflict Studies Association Board; and the Armed Forces Communications and Electronics Association. He received his Bachelor's Degree in Political Science and Military History from the U.S. Air Force Academy; a Master of Public Policy from the John F. Kennedy School of Government, Harvard University; and his Doctor of Philosophy in International Affairs from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, Tufts University, with distinction. He is the author of Strategic Warfare in Cyberspace.

About BITS

BITS is the technology policy division of The Financial Services Roundtable, created to foster the growth and development of electronic financial services and e-commerce for the benefit of financial institutions and their customers. BITS focuses on strategic issues where industry cooperation serves the public good, such as critical infrastructure protection, fraud prevention, and the safety of financial services by leveraging intellectual capital to address emerging issues at the intersection of financial services, operations and technology. BITS' efforts involve representatives from throughout our member institutions, including CEOs, CIOs, CISOs, and fraud, compliance and vendor management specialists. For more information, go to <http://www.bits.org/>.

About the Roundtable

The Financial Services Roundtable represents 100 of the largest integrated financial services companies providing banking, insurance, and investment products and services to the American consumer. Member companies participate through the Chief Executive Officer and other senior executives nominated by the CEO.

Roundtable member companies provide fuel for America's economic engine, accounting directly for $74.7 trillion in managed assets, $1.1 trillion in revenue, and 2.3 million jobs.

###